Report: Apple Planning March Event for Apple Watch
2022/03/18

Apple will unveil its second generation Apple Watch at a launch event scheduled for March 2016, according to a report from 9to5Mac. The event will come ahead of April shipments of the new Watch, and may even include the revelation of a new four-inch iPhone 6C, the report said. The Apple Watch made its debut at a launch event in March 2015 and has absolutely crushed the competition with more than 7 million devices shipped in its first two quarters of availability. In the third quarter 2015, Apple was the only smartwatch vendor to ship more than 300,000 units.
